Professor Ian Scott is a nationally and internationally recognized artist. His works can be found in the Scottish National Portrait Gallery, The Aberdeen Art Gallery, The Dundee Art Gallery, The Royal Scottish Academy, The Koyo Institute, and The Dublin Art Gallery, among others. In the US his works have been exhibited in the Silverstein Gallery, the Kravits Wehby Gallery, and in a touring exhibition Conversations with Jeff Koons and Frank Gehry. Currently, he has an exhibition in the Dovecot Studios, Edinburgh, in recognition of his winning the Alastair Salvesen Scholarship. He has been honored with an invitation to exhibit his works this June in the Lyth Arts Center. Professor Scott has transformed the Arts curriculum at Hostos, encouraging students to explore their creativity and to contribute in countless ways to the cultural life of the Hostos community. He has a very strong following among Hostos students whom he guides and mentors in and out of the classroom.
