Call for Nominations

The Office of the Provost is now accepting applications for the 2008 Exemplary Practices Award from academic departments in the Division of Academic Affairs who have instituted practices to proven success.

The annual Exemplary Practices Award recognizes an academic department on its successful practices in teaching, administration, student support, or community-building. This year’s award-winning department will be honored and invited to make a presentation on their exemplary practices at the 2008 OAA Retreat on May 29th.

Nominations are due May 5.

The department chair should submit a 1-3 page description of the successful practice that they and/or their department have instituted, improved, or continued, including evidence of their success. This description will be the basis of a 15-20 minute presentation at the Retreat.
