

A message from THE PRESIDENT

To the Hostos family:

It with is deep sadness I share the news that Professor Andrew Hubner of the College's English Department has passed away. "Drew," as he was known, was a beloved member of the faculty and a distinguished novelist and short story writer. Born in New Jersey, raised in North Carolina, he received degrees from Hunter College and the New School.

"He was such a life force and so dedicated to our students," remembered Associate Dean of Academic Affairs Andrea Fabrizio. "He will be terribly missed and is irreplaceable."

Details concerning funeral arrangements will be shared as soon as they are made available.

I send my heartfelt condolences to his brother David, his three children and to all who knew and loved him.

In sorrow,

Daisy Cocco De Filippis, Ph.D.
President

For Whom the Bell Tolls

By John Donne

No man is an island,
Entire of itself.
Each is a piece of the continent,
A part of the main.
If a clod be washed away by the sea,
Europe is the less.
As well as if a promontory were.
As well as if a manor of thine own
Or of thine friend's were.
Each man's death diminishes me,
For I am involved in mankind.
Therefore, send not to know
For whom the bell tolls,
It tolls for thee.
