Introduction

Finding a scholarship can be a very difficult thing to do. Finding a scholarship that suits your individual needs can be tough too. Finding a scholarship that provides you with all of the resources that you need to attend college for two, four or any number of years is nearly impossible and equally implausible. So, when you sit down to do a scholarship search, you always have to be realistic. Consider all the opportunities that might suit you and don't focus in too much on the dollar amounts that are given. (Sometimes one scholarship opportunity will lead to another.) A two hundred dollar scholarship might not be very impressive in dollar amount, but it can be more valuable to you than just helping you pay for school, it may also open up doors for you in your college life or your desired profession.

Every avenue that you pursue when looking for a scholarship should focus on who you are and what you have accomplished in your life. Accomplishments not only include those things that you have done in the world around you; volunteer work, awards, community service, learned and developed skills, but they should also include things that you have done in your own personal life; raise a family, overcome obstacles and stumbling blocks, traverse great distances or spans of time to re-invest in your education. Lots of organizations are looking to reward a compelling story as much as they are looking to reward great grades and valuable service to the community and the world.

Potential is a powerful motivator to scholarship boards, who review applications. Someone with great potential can inspire a scholarship reviewer to give them the award, by impressively relaying their story to them in a personal statement or a scholarship essay. Both are tools in the process that help to make you more understood by the readers and better qualified to receive some financial support. So, always be sure to write an honest, forthright and well thought out essay/statement that illustrates who you are, where you have been and where you hope to go. (Always include where you hope to study, what you plan to do with the funds and how they will help you to get to the places you want to go in your life and educational career.)

All of that being said you may not find a scholarship that fits you in this packet, but that doesn't mean that there isn't one out there for you. There are resources available in this booklet and at the college to assist you in your search, but ultimately you will have to put in the time and the effort, doing some research, applying to some offices/programs/sites and looking diligently for that scholarship or scholarships that you, yourself might be best qualified for. You are the best advisor for yourself when it comes to looking for aid for college, because you are the only person in the world who knows who you truly are, what you have done concretely and what you need to go after your goals, dreams and desires. Good luck in your search.

AES Engineering Scholarship

Purpose of Scholarships: AES Engineering is pleased to be able to continue offering scholarships to motivated students to help in the furthering of their education.

Scholarship Criteria: Our belief is that achieving a high grade point average should not be the only criteria for determining who deserves to be helped. For that reason we are offering a scholarship that will be awarded on the basis of character, as determined by evaluating the essays that are submitted.

Scholarships are intended for our future leaders across a wide spectrum of fields of study. This award is available to high school seniors and all students attending a post-secondary educational facility.

You are not required to be taking Engineering courses to be eligible.

How to Apply

Students must submit an essay of between 500 and 1000 words in answer to the following question:

When you look back on your life in 30 years, what would it take for you to consider your life successful? What relationships or accomplishments will be important on this journey?

Submit essay to: scholarships@aesengineers.com

There is no application packet for this award. Please do not include your resume at this time.

Be sure to include your full name as well as the name of the school you are attending this year and your plans for the next year.

Award: $500.00

Deadline: 10/6/18

American Legion Legacy Scholarship

Worldwide electronics leader Samsung endowed a scholarship fund of $5 million to be administered by The American Legion in 1996. Meant to show appreciation for U.S. veterans who came to Korea's aid during its struggle against communist forces in the Korean War, the Samsung American Legion Scholarship Program established a series of scholarships derived from interest and other income from the principal amount. To date, the Samsung American Legion Scholarship has awarded more than $5.5 million to approximately 2,069 applicants.

Eligibility

Scholarship applications are restricted to high school juniors who attend the current session of either The American Legion Boys State or American Legion Auxiliary Girls State program and are a direct descendant - i.e. child, grandchild, great grandchild, etc. - or a legally adopted child of a wartime U.S. military veteran who served on active duty during at least one of the periods of war officially designated as eligibility dates for American Legion membership.

Deadline

Scholarships are due no later than the first day of a participant's American Legion Boys State or American Legion Auxiliary Girls State program. All applications must be submitted using the online application system by 11:59PM on this day. Applications will not be modified after the due date or given a deadline extension under any circumstance.

Participants should check their individual program coordinator as to whether or not the coordinator desires them to bring a hard copy of their submitted application materials. If a hard copy is required, participants will need to complete their application PRIOR to arrival at their respective program.

Award: Samsung scholarships may be used for undergraduate studies and applied toward tuition, books, fees, and room and board. Winners are selected according to academic record, involvement in school and community service.

- Ten National Scholars receive $10,000 each (two from each region)

- Ten National Runners-Up receive $5,000 each (two from each region)
- Remaining Department Finalists receive $1,250 each guaranteed

Barbara Wiedner & D. Vandercook Peace Scholarships

Since 1993, Grandmothers for Peace International has awarded scholarships to students across the United States. Scholarships have also been awarded to three students in Africa, two students in Kyrgyzstan (formerly part of the U.S.S.R.), and students in Canada, Norway, and the Ukraine.

Eligibility for this scholarship requires evidence of activities or work (volunteer or paid) relating to peace and social justice, nuclear disarmament, and/or conflict resolution. Due to the wonderful generosity of members and friends, we have been able to award a total of 129 scholarships since our inception (including eight for $500). For the coming academic year we again plan to award at least one $500 scholarship.

These are the requirements:

Be a high school senior or in your first year of college. Complete the application form. Write a brief autobiography of your activities relating to peace and social justice, nuclear disarmament issues, and conflict resolution. Include some proof of these activities (e.g., copies of newspaper articles, verification by your references). Include two letters of recommendation. Describe how you will contribute to a peaceful and just society in the future.

There are no grade point or age requirements, and students from any country may apply. Applications must be postmarked by March 1st. Application forms for the coming academic year are now available for downloading.

Students will need to submit proof of college registration before an award is sent to them.

Award: Max $500- Min $250

Review your completed essay before submitting, including checking for typos, misspellings, and other grammatical errors. Essays must be between 400 and 600 words in length.

If picked as a top 20 finalist, you must provide an official transcript. Failure to provide an official transcript, that shows current enrollment, will disqualify you from the contest – no exceptions.

The judges will review each essay and pick the top 20 from each level to be posted on CrossLites.com. Applicants then have the opportunity to invite others to view their essay and to vote for them. The number of votes and shares make up a large portion of the applicant’s total score. When the voting period has ended, the winner will be chosen.

Critical Language Scholarships

Description: The Critical Language Scholarship (CLS) Program is an intensive overseas language and cultural immersion program for American students enrolled at U.S. colleges and universities. The program includes intensive language instruction and structured cultural enrichment experiences designed to promote rapid language gains.

CLS is part of a wider government initiative to expand the number of Americans studying and mastering foreign languages that are critical to national security and economic prosperity. CLS plays an important role in preparing students for the 21st century's globalized workforce and increasing national competitiveness.

The Critical Language Scholarship Program is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State with funding provided by the U.S. Government and administered by American Councils for International Education.

Who Can Apply: Must be a U.S. citizen at the time of your application.

Non-citizens including Permanent Residents are not eligible, even if they anticipate naturalization by the beginning of the program.

Be enrolled in an accredited U.S. degree-granting program at the undergraduate (associate's, bachelor's) or graduate (master's, doctoral, professional degree) level at the time of your application.

Award: The CLS Program covers most of the costs of participating in its overseas institutes, including: International and domestic travel between the student's U.S. home city, Washington, D.C., and the CLS Program site

Related costs for a mandatory pre-departure orientation in Washington, D.C.

Visa fees, language instruction, room, board, program-sponsored travel within the host country

All entrance fees for program activities

U.S. academic credit issued through Bryn Mawr College

The following expenses will not be covered by the CLS Program:

U.S. passport fees

Medical exam fees required for finalists

National Deadline: The application for the summer 2019 CLS Program will open in fall 2018

Fulbright US Student Program Scholarships

The Fulbright U.S. Student Program provides grants for individually designed study/research projects or for English Teaching Assistantships. A candidate will submit a Statement of Grant Purpose defining activities to take place during one academic year in a participating country outside the U.S.

During their grants, Fulbrighters will meet, work, live with and learn from the people of the host country, sharing daily experiences. The program facilitates cultural exchange through direct interaction on an individual basis in the classroom, field, home, and in routine tasks, allowing the grantee to gain an appreciation of others' viewpoints and beliefs, the way they do things, and the way they think. Through engagement in the community, the individual will interact with their hosts on a one-to-one basis in an atmosphere of openness, academic integrity, and intellectual freedom, thereby promoting mutual understanding. Grant lengths and dates vary by country. Please consult the specific country summary for details.

Types of Applicants

You will apply either through a U.S. institution or At-Large. If you are currently enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program at a U.S. college or university, you are required to apply through that institution, even if you are not currently resident there. If you are not currently enrolled, you may apply through your alma mater, provided that the institution is willing and able to accommodate alumni applications. All other candidates will apply as At-Large applicants from their states of permanent residence, even if they are currently overseas.

National Science Foundation Fellowship

The National Science Foundation funds research and education in most fields of science and engineering. It does this through grants, and cooperative agreements to more than 2,000 colleges, universities, K-12 school systems, businesses, informal science organizations and other research organizations throughout the United States. The Foundation accounts for about one-fourth of federal support to academic institutions for basic research.

NSF receives approximately 40,000 proposals each year for research, education and training projects, of which approximately 11,000 are funded. In addition, the Foundation receives several thousand applications for graduate and postdoctoral fellowships.

The agency operates no laboratories itself but does support National Research Centers, user facilities, certain oceanographic vessels and Antarctic research stations. The Foundation also supports cooperative research between universities and industry, US participation in international scientific and engineering efforts, and educational activities at every academic level.

Award: The maximum amount of a scholarship per year is $10,000, as per legislation.

Awards: Up to $3,000.00

Deadline: May 15—Part One

Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowships

The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans program honors the contributions of immigrants and children of immigrants to the United States. Each year, we invest in the graduate education of 30 New Americans—immigrants and children of immigrants—who are poised to make significant contributions to US society, culture or their academic field. Each Fellow receives up to $90,000 in financial support over two years, and they join a lifelong community of New American Fellows.

The competition is merit-based. Selection criteria emphasize creativity, originality, initiative, and sustained accomplishment. The program values a commitment to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The program does not have any quotas for types of degrees, universities or programs, countries of origin, or gender, etc. Unsuccessful applicants are welcome to reapply in subsequent years if they are still eligible.

Eligibility:

- New American Status - Your birth parents must have both been born outside of the US as non-US citizens, and both parents must not have been eligible for US citizenship at the time of their births. In addition, you must be a US citizen (by birth or naturalize), possess a valid green card, were born outside of the US or one of its territories and were subsequently adopted by American parent(s), and were awarded US citizenship as a result of your adoption, or have been granted or have previously been granted DACA status.
- Academic Standing - You should be planning to be enrolled full time in an eligible graduate degree program at a US university for the full 2019-20 academic year. In addition, you must not have begun the third year of the program you are seeking funding for as of the November 1, 2018 deadline. Applicants who have a previous graduate degree or who are in a joint-degree program are eligible. Ineligible programs: Online programs, executive graduate programs, joint bachelors/master's programs, certificate programs, post-baccalaureate programs, graduate programs that are not in the United States, and graduate programs that are not fully accredited
- Age - You must not have reached or passed your 31st birthday as of the application deadline. There is no minimum age requirement.

The Hostos Student Leadership Academy

The Leadership Academy creates and coordinates college-wide academic and co-curricular activities that prepare students to be effective global citizens who are engaged in transforming their communities through scholarship, work and volunteer service. Taking into account the diverse backgrounds of Hostos students, the Leadership Academy offers multiple access points.

Students may have a formal relationship with the Academy by enrolling in one of its five programs: the Student Ambassador Program, the Students Orientation Services (SOS) Team Program, the Emerging Leaders Program, the Hostos Athletic Leaders Organization (HALO), or the Volunteer Corps. They may also choose a less formal relationship with the Academy by participating in programs offered to the entire Hostos student body.

The Honors Program

The Hostos Community College Honors Program provides an enriched academic, cultural and social experience to intellectually inquisitive and motivated students in the Liberal Arts (A.A.); Liberal Arts in Science A.S.; Associate in Science in Chemical, A.S; Associate in Science in Civil Engineering or Engineering, A.S.; Associate in Science in Electrical, A.S; Dental Hygiene A.A.S.; Business Management, A.S; Microcomputer in Business, A.A. S.; Accounting, A.A. S.; and Office Technology, A.A.S.

The program offers students an academic environment that values and promotes critical thinking, analytical writing, and research and information competency skills through an innovative and challenging curriculum. Attendance at cultural events, conferences, honors seminars and an Honors Institute provide an intellectual community that encourages and supports students in pursuing their goals.

The program will offer greater academic opportunities to a previously underserved population, to prepare talented and ambitious students for the challenges of higher education, and to support a successful transition to senior colleges and expanded career options. A fundamental program goal is to promote self-confidence and increase self-esteem in students who need the encouragement to excel and the courage to continue their education and fulfill their life goals and dreams.
